MARKING
solutions

Founded in 1991

Marking Solutions was established to address unreliable coding and marking equipment and limited technical support in South Africa. Our focus has been on supplying the right technology, installing it correctly, and backing it with strong local service to increase customer production uptime.

Why We Exist

The company was founded by its shareholders after recognising a clear need for trusted, reliable coding and marking solutions for South African manufacturers. Their vision was to introduce globally proven technology supported by deep local expertise.

Over 30 Years' Experience

With more than three decades of experience, Marking Solutions has supported manufacturers across food and beverage, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, chemicals, cables, plastics, automotive, and industrial manufacturing. Customers benefit from extensive hands-on application knowledge, ensuring their production line runs efficiently, reliably, and in compliance with regulations.

What We Do

We provide end-to-end coding, marking, and traceability solutions designed for demanding production environments. Supported by premium brands such as Leibinger and our own Marksol range, that deliver consistent date codes, batch codes, barcodes, QR codes, and traceability marks, all supported by reliable, local technical support.

- Consumables and Spares – inks, solvents, ribbons, filters, and critical parts

Why Choose Us?

“You work with a company that treats your production line as critical, not just the equipment it supplies.”

30+ years of proven experience

You benefit from our three decades of hands-on application knowledge across South African manufacturing environments.

Service first approach

Production uptime is critical. Fast response, trained and capable technicians, and getting your line running is our priority.

Application led solutions

You receive practical guidance on substrates, inks, environments, and integration, reducing risk and trial-and-error.

Technology matched to your operation

Recommendations are based on what works best for your production environment and conditions together with competitively priced cost of ownership.

Long term local support

Ongoing service, consumables, spares, and upgrades ensure your systems remain reliable throughout their lifecycle.
